DESIGN INSPIRATION

Theatrical and exquisite, with a large, generous repeat, the design of the burn out Teatro was inspired by metal gate railings. Rounded swirls develop into a lozenge pattern over the entire length of the fabric. The sheer is further enhanced by a degradation of colors with an artisanal technique that blends the colors and merges it into different harmonious colors over the entire fabric, ending with white at the top. A unique, hand crafted dyeing process is used to create this fabric and there can be slight variations from dye lot to dye lot. Christian Fischbacher's Teatro is available in four colorsways: two dramatic ones in strong, bright colors and two in delicate, muted tones.
